Bridge beam installation at Leumeah Station

Australian Rail Track Corporation (ARTC) is currently undertaking construction works at Leumeah Station for the Southern Sydney Freight Line.

A crane will be placed in the station carpark off Old Plough Inn Road, Leumeah, from 8am to 1pm on 26 November 2011 to enable the safe installation of bridge beams for the new pedestrian overbridge.

During the bridge beam lift the Old Plough Inn Road entrance to the station will be closed to ensure the safety of the public. Pedestrians and commuters will only be able to use the footbridge from the eastern side of the station under direction of a traffic controller stationed on the footbridge. A shuttle bus will also be in place to carry commuters from the western side of the station on Old Plough Inn Road to the eastern side of the station on O'Sullivan Road, Leumeah.

Twelve car spaces in the carpark will be closed for the duration of the works. Barriers will be placed around the work area, with signage and traffic controls in place to manage vehicular and pedestrian movements.

We appreciate your patience while we build this important project for Sydney and NSW.
